STRAW HATS

Men may not change their style of clothing often, but when they do change they make more fuss about it than a woman does in her entire lifetime, according to some of our lady friends, who have been watching the publicity on the proposed Straw Hat day on April 22.

We didn't go into details to inform this young lady that another lady was in reality behind all of the agitation of straw hat day, but let it go at that—having learned in our early youth that the best way to shorten life is to start a dispute with a woman on something which affects her vanity.

Be that as it may, tomorrow is to be official straw hat day. Those who were fortunate enough to find their straw bonnet minus a mouse nest when they hunted for it in the garret this spring, will not have to dig up, but most of us unfortunate ones will be forced to dig to adorn the old bean with a bit of straw.

We ourselves would like to put in a good word for the straw hat. Personally, we would like to wear one the year round. The straw hat as it is made today is in no way comparable to the hot clammy heavy felt hats, which dame fashion has wished off on us. Civilization has done many strange things to us, but we think the strangest of them all is the manner in which we handicap ourselves by wearing heavy, hot unbecoming headgear.

The hay topper may be the brunt of many a poor joke, but we believe it to be the best that is obtainable in a civilization-mad world.

GUS ERICKSON DIES FROM HIT-RUN INJURIES

POLICE HOLD SUSPECT IN MARTINEZ JAIL

Barney J. McCoy of Crockett is Returned To Martinez After Questioning

DENIES KNOWLEDGE OF CASE

Richmond Police and Traffic Officers Apprehended McCoy Shortly After Accident

Gus Erickson, 65, of Richmond Annex, who was struck by a hit-and-run driver at San Pablo and Fairmont avenues Monday night, died yesterday afternoon at the Berkeley General hospital from injuries sustained in the accident. According to hospital authorities death was due to a fractured skull and severe cuts which bled profusely.

Barney J. McCoy of Crockett, arrested by Richmond police and State traffic officers following the accident and held at the county jail at Martinez, was questioned yesterday by District Attorney James A. Hoey regarding the accident.

McCoy was driving a car which answered the description of the one said to have struck Erickson. McCoy was non-committal after his arrest and denied any knowledge of the accident.

Deputy District Attorney James H. Hoey brought McCoy to Richmond, where he was grilled by the police yesterday, but he stuck to his story that he did not remember hitting anybody or anything.

Blood was found on a headlight and other portions of the car driven by McCoy at the time of his arrest and the authorities will investigate to find whether or not it is human blood.

Erickson who was a pioneer resident of Richmond having lived here during the past twenty-five years was a familiar character about town. He was a native of Sweden and leaves no relatives living in this country.

He was a member of the Seamen's union and was a resident of California during the past fifty years.

Funeral arrangements are being made by the Bert Curry funeral parlors, where the body now lies. No date has been set for the funeral, pending the coroner's autopsy, which will be held within the next few days in Alameda county.

CORONERS JURY HAS INQUESTS IN TWO CASES

Accidental drowning was the verdict of the Coroners jury in the death of the unknown man, John Doe, no. 39, who was drowned at Sobrante on Saturday night.

A verdict of drowning with suicidal intent was the verdict returned as the cause of the death of Walter Beacher, colored, whose body was discovered on Saturday at the bay shore at the foot of Thirty-eighth street.

It is thought that the unknown man was walking down the Southern Pacific tracks between Irondale and Sobrante and that he fell down the twenty-five foot embankment and drowned in a pool of stagnant water. No mark of identification was found upon the body.

The body of Beacher was discovered and the only clues to his body was two post cards found upon the body.

Coroner Charles Donnelly was in charge of the inquests.

Summer Diseases In Children Can Be Prevented

One of the important features of the campaign for bettering the health of children, who are to enter school next fall, lies in the instruction of parents in the prevention of common summer diseases of the digestive system. This campaign, which is sponsored by the Bureau of Child Hygiene of the California State Board of Health, is being conducted in nearly every county of the state.

Conferences, at which the parent is present during the physical examination of the child, will be extremely profitable in disease prevention. Diarrhea and enteritis cause the deaths of many infants and young children every year. These occur mostly during the summer months and are due for the most part to improper care and feeding of children. The infant who has an abundance of air space in the home, with plenty of sunlight, who is clothed to suit the weather, kept scrupulously clean, and who is fed in accordance with the simple common sense advice of a physician is almost certain not to develop these intestinal disorders. Mothers who attend these conferences will have an opportunity to learn at first hand of the simple practical methods now being employed in safeguarding the lives of every child against these dangerous diseases of childhood.

LIQUOR THIEVES MAKE BIG HAUL NEAR MONTEREY

$100,000 Worth of Liquor Is Stolen From Vault of Millionaire Sportsman

(By Universal Service)

MONTEREY, April 20.—Liquor valued at approximately $100,000 was stolen by a band of thieves who invaded the home of A. King Macomber, millionaire horseman at Pebble Beach near here today. The bandits loaded their loot into a fleet of six or eight automobiles and escaped.

The liquor was stored in a steel and concrete vault.

Entering the palatial residence this morning the bandits overpowered Stewart Fackenthal, caretaker. His wife, in an adjoining room, heard the noise. She grabbed a revolver and fired several shots which went wild. She was overpowered. Both Fackenthal and his wife were bound and gagged. The bandits worked in leisurely fashion to tear up the flooring over the vault and then set off a charge of powder, wrecking the door.

The intruders then hurriedly carried the liquor to waiting automobiles.

It was not until late this afternoon that Fackenthal and his wife succeeded in breaking loose from their bonds and gave the alarm.

The liquor had been stored in the vault for six years. Macomber is at present in Paris, where he has resided for several years past.

Amundsen May Postpone Polar Flight for Year

(By Universal Service)

MOSCOW, April 20.—The hazards of the Amundsen polar flight appear to increase today when word was received here that the jump from Leningrad to Spitzbergen will be delayed at least a week because the Spitzbergen hangar and men are not ready to receive the dirigible "Norge" on its arrival there.

Colonel Nobile and the crew are doomed to wait restlessly in the murky Leningrad fog knowing that if the "Norge" is not ready to leave Spitzbergen for Alaska before May 15 the expedition must be postponed for a year. After that date the polar fogs will make the flight of the airship impossible.

George Answers Charges Filed Against Company

(By Universal Service)

"Malicious attacks of unscrupulous politicians" are blamed by W. H. George, president of the San Francisco Builders Exchange and general manager of the Cowell Portland Cement company, for his arrest charge with irregularity in the payment of employees at the company's plant at Cowell.

According to the labor commissioner, Walter G. Mathewson, penalties amounting to $4,470 are contained in the suit and a warrant was issued for George's arrest charging that he failed to pay the wages of 168 employees. Both complaints are based on the result of an investigation of the company's payroll books.

The suit is brought under the 1925 amendment to the semi-monthly pay roll law and was filed in response to demands by a group of workers at the plant.

In a letter received from George yesterday, he denies the above complaints and states that "every day is pay day and our employees are all instructed that they can always get money at the office and get their pay any day they want it."

The following are statements in the letter received from George: "During the month our employees owe us for rent, board and lodging which we guarantee for (Continued to Page 3)

FIVE OTHERS ARE REPORTED TO BE ALIVE

Rescuer Holds Conversation With One of the Entombed Men Through Wall of Dribis THOMAS McDERMOTT FREED

Five Others Are Expected to Be Rescued Some Time Early This Morning

(By Universal Service)

QUINCY, April 20.—"All Alive." This word was flashed to the outside world early tonight by the rescuers who have been struggling since early Sunday morning to penetrate a wall of boulders and dirt that closed in upon six workers in the Feather River Power company's project near here.

Thomas McDermott was the first man rescued.

John McBride is said to be near where McDermott was found and it is expected he will be reached shortly.

This was indicated by a conversation held with one of the buried hard rock workers late today, after the rescue tunnel had been driven close enough to hear the miners' voices. Six feet of 'slit granite' and collapsed timbering still bar the six from the outside world.

Charles Richardson, of the contracting firm which is driving the tunnel for the Feather River Power company, went to the limit of the rescue diggings while shifts were being changed this afternoon and shouted:

"Yo ho, yo ho, yo ho," came back the answer from the other side of the slide in the cheerful voice of one of the veteran miners. Although the voices of the buried men were distinguished for the first time at noon today, this was the first occasion on which a conversation was carried on.

"Who are you?" shouted Richardson.

"Horse McBride," came the answer.

"Horse," is the name which his comrades had given to John McBride.

"How are you in there?" asked Richardson.

"We're alright," yelled McBride. "How in here—yo ho? How much longer have you got to wait before you get us out of here?"

Richardson ended the conversation at this time anxious for the rescue work to proceed without interruption.

Richardson believes that all the timbering in the tunnel collapsed in the cave-in caused by a blast of explosives with the exception of one section. The six miners were in this section, he believes, and it saved their lives.

All of the six are old time miners of the Mother Lode country and nearly all have been in mine and tunnel disasters before. William Cope, the foreman has survived eleven disasters and was a member of the rescue crew during the historic Argonaut mine disaster.

In addition to Cope and McBride, the imprisoned miner are: J. Coyne, M. Michelson, Frank Erickson, and C. McDermott.

FLAMING YOUTH

The people who are always raving about how much better things used to be give me that tired feeling. Whether it's due young folks, the way the fair sex bob their skirts or their hair, the way we bring up our neighbor's children, our way of living our lives, our working conditions—no matter what it is, it's wrong! Now I'm not so young myself, and, as I remember it, boys and girls in my day were about the same as present-day youngsters—no worse nor any better. The boys kissed a girl when they got a chance, and the girls were up to tricks to. And both boys and girls were "sassy" to their mothers and played "hokey" from school when they go a chance and thought they could get away with it! When will they stop harking back to that time of "The Good Old Days," "When I Was Young" and "What Things Used to Be?" Oh, those people who like Lots wife, always have their heads turned over their shoulders! I hope that they, too turn to a pillar of salt and blow away. Although I am not so young, I have lots of young ideas; and if there is anything I like better than today, it is tomorrow. This is a grand old world, and it is going to be better, thanks to those of us who are persistently looking ahead.—Frank O'Donnell in the Typographical Journal.

A MAN'S WORTH

When a man states that he feels like thirty cents he understates his actual market value by sixty-eight cents.

Chemists who have been analyzing the average man say that he contains enough fat to make seven bars of soap, enough sugar to fill a shaker, enough iron to make a shingle nail, enough phosphorus to tip twenty-two hundred matches, enough potassium to explode a toy cannon, enough magnesium for a dose of magnesia, and a dash of sulphur.

At current market rates the average man, sold for scrap, would be worth about ninety-eight cents.

A man was recently exchanged in Soviet Russia for two bottles of vodka and his wife for one, which seems to bear out this estimate of chemical value of the human body. A person who tipped the scales at four hundred pounds would naturally bring more at the soap factory than one who weighed only a hundred and fifty pounds; but even at that what a drug on the market human beings would be in competition with porkers! The imponderable chemical metabolism which takes place in the few ounces of grey matter in his cranium is what distinguishes a Nation from the newt.

DANGER!

Surgeon General Hugh S. Cumming, of the Public Health Service, who is one of the men in Washington who can be credited with knowing what he is talking about, has issued a warning designed especially for the home garage automobile tinkers. Motors, he said should not be run more than thirty seconds in a garage even though the door or window may be open unless the exhaust is directly connected with the outside air. Starting the engine and getting in under it and peering into its entrails the Surgeon says, is virtually inviting suicide. The increasing habit also of using motor fuels for cleansing purposes involves an element of danger to the human system.

Those who defend the European debt settlements make the very telling point that we ought to be pleased and surprised to get anything at all.

RETURN OF THE BRITISH

The Declaration of Independence pleased Washington. He felt it would only acknowledge existing facts, not change them. The colonies were enlisting their men for only three months at a time, the struggle having been calculated upon a short scale. Sometimes the men would consent to re-enlist; often they would not. Often a whole company would leave at the end of the three months' term. Washington, foreseeing a return of Sir William Howe and his troops, transferred his headquarters to New York, but there were spies all around him and enemies without number who waited for General Howe's return to give him trouble.

The British, however, chose Charleston in the south for their first attempt. A fleet of ships was sent from England under Sir Peter Parker, with fresh troops commanded by the Earl of Cornwallis. They were joined by transports and men-of-war from Halifax, commanded by Sir Henry Clinton. In late June they delivered a combined attack, by land and sea, upon the fort on Sullivan's Island, seeking to get past to the capture of Charleston. It was impossible for them to force a passage and two of their ships—one of them Sir Peter's own flagship—never came away again. Both fleet and troops landed from it were beaten off by Colonel Moultrie and Colonel Thompson, and the British went northward to New York.

As Washington expected, Sir William came back. In fact, on the very day of the attack at Charleston, Howe's transports began to gather in the lower bay. In a few days there were thirty thousand troops waiting to be landed. With the force Washington had, it was impossible to prevent their being put ashore at their commander's convenience. It was also impossible to keep their ships from the inner bay or to prevent their passing up the river as they pleased. Washington could only wait.

EMBROIDERY GIVES SMART TOUCH TO SIMPLE MODES

Frocks and Blouses Retain Their Sophisticated Simplicity, Though Yielding to Decorative Touches

By MONA MULLEN

No. 12867
Motifs for straight-line frocks.
The embroidery is taken from a transfer which furnishes one and one reverse of a panel motif 4 1/2 inches long; also two motifs 8 1/2 by 17 inches. The design is so created that it may be used separately or all together, making it appropriate for many purposes other than those of dress ornamentation.
The design on the blouse is equally simple and smart. It consists of little baskets, worked in outline stitch, filled with flowers that are developed in a variety of stitches. The lazy-daisy is a favorite stitch for flowers as simple as the ones featured in this transfer. For the centers of the flowers French knots are appropriate. The leaves may be done in outline or flat satin stitch. The colors of the silk used depend, of course, upon the background to which they are applied. The transfer furnishes two yards each of three different borders and ten motifs besides.
These embroideries may be carried out with beads as effectively as with silk or cotton.

Why Girls Go Back Home

CATHARINE BRODY

Copyright 1926 by Warner Bros. Pictures Inc.

"Why Girls Go Back Home" with Patsy Ruth Miller is a Warner production from this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Marie Downey, a country girl as innocent as pretty, thinks that because Clifford Dudley, an actor, kisses her, they have thus become engaged; and naively follows him to New York. Clifford schemes to get rid of the unsophisticated girl without unpleasant publicity, but just at this time Marie, defending Clifford's reputation, informs her chorus mates she is his fiancée. This leaks to the papers and is a bombshell to Clifford's backers, who plan to "frame" Marie to save Clifford. Sally, Marie's protector, is absent from the apartment.

With not too much alacrity, therefore, and with her kimono hanging loosely about her, she opened the door. Sam took in the scattered living room at one glance over her head. Then he smiled reassuringly. "Miss Downey?" Reckoning herself of the loose kimono, Marie gathered it about her and nodded. A reporter, was a horrified first thought, soon dispelled, however. "Mr. Dudley sent me over," explained Sam. "My friend that he spoke to you about." "Oh, isn't Mr. Dudley coming?" Sam had to smile at the acute collapse of all her hopes audible in her voice. "Oh, yes," he went on confidently, and saw her smile again. "But he got stuck with a telephone call—business, you know, and since I'm in a hurry, he told me to go along first and wait for him if possible. I suppose you don't mind if I come in?" "Oh, of course, to come in," said Marie, confused. She looked deprecatingly about the living room, thankful that she had made up the couch on which she slept and blushed at the untidy litter visible through the open bedroom door. She went quickly forward and shut it.

"May I sit down?" remarked Sam. "Oh, yes, of course," cried Marie in further confusion. For some reason which the experienced Sally would have had no trouble in classifying, Marie made her conscious of the thinness of the kimono. She stood uncertainly by the bedroom door, torn between a desire to excuse herself and slip on a dress and a feeling that there was something in the air, in the performance with a stranger in the same apartment.

Sam hung his hat and came on another chair and settled himself blandly. He began to tell her to tell you what I have in mind, with a surprised and rather reproachful look which caused Marie to come forward a little, feeling that she had been remiss as a hostess. She still held herself, however, with an uncertain air, poised for flight, which did not escape Sam. "Oh, I think there are some on the table," She crossed to get the matches and ash tray. Sam forestalled her, but her movement brought them, as he had planned, closer together. Just as he was about to put the match to his cigarette Marie was horrified by a sudden crumpling process in his body. The lighted match fell to the carpet and the man, clutching his side, seemed only by herculean control to keep himself from sinking to the ground. He pointed agonizedly to the match, which she put out with her foot, and made a desperate attempt to straighten up. This brought a great gasp of pain and a further bowing and curling up of his body.

"Thank you, madam. It was kind of you to inform me." To the man, now struggling into his coat, he made an ironic bow: "I am so sorry we had to intrude." All this time he held Marie at arm's length. Now he released her and with his best snarl looked her again in the eye: "I never wish to see you or hear from you again."

He turned on his heel. At this second the door opened and Sally stood on the threshold, taking in the whole group, and Clifford in especial, with a lift of her eyebrows. Sally took one step out of the doorway. "What the h— is this?" Without deigning to answer the group fled by her silently, as they had come. Only Clifford turned to say, with a smile, "Ask your girl friend."

The man, Sam, grabbing his hat and cane, sneaked by Sally, clinging to his wife, who pushed aside her arm to spy for Sally's benefit. The door banged behind them.

"Clifford!" screamed Marie, throwing open the door. "Come back; oh, Clifford, let me explain!" There was no answer. She was about to rush after him; but, becoming conscious of the disheveled kimono, she ran back and grabbed Sally.

"Go after him, Sally, if you're my friend. Oh, call him back." Sally only shut the door, and, taking Marie in her arms, let her cry noisily, beseech and then fall to weeping more and more quietly.

$6,000 Demanded By Kidnappers

(By Universal Service) NEW YORK, April 20.—Emma Martucci, ten years old, was kidnapped on her way home from school at noon today. Less than an hour afterwards her father, Joseph Martucci, a wealthy holder of real estate, was handed an unsigned message in which $6,000 was demanded.

The police were notified and an investigation started. In a search of the telephone office the messenger boy was located. Police learned that a well-dressed young man about 20 with dark complexion and dark hair had entered a Western Union office and handed the message.

The office manager charged him 50 cents and asked his name and address. He gave the name of Cohen and an address. When detectives visited the address he gave they found that no one by the name of Cohen or the description of the him was known there.

The message read "If you do not give us $6,000 which you will be requested to deliver to messenger boy on Wednesday morning, you will not see your little daughter alive again. We will kill the entire family, you, your wife and family are being very carefully watched."

The result is that the first half months pay is usually used up by their usual and ordinary obligations.

"We have at Cowell a happy, contented community, with everything done to further their comfort. Not one of our employees has ever made a complaint to the labor commissioner, as he well knows. In fact they do not want two semi-monthly pay days a month, and prefer pay day every day and have so stated."

"The district attorney's office of Contra Costa county, knowing the full facts, refused to recommend the issuing of the warrant, but the justice of the peace, in view of a warrant, although a warrant of this kind has never been issued in the state of California and against a corporation well known for its fair dealing and its care of the comfort of its employees."

"The whole thing is the outcome of the fact that I am the president of the Builders' Exchange of San Francisco and the fact that there is a carpenters strike in this city. It was pity that any of our state commissions should be controlled by unscrupulous politicians, who will lend themselves to malicious attacks of this kind. It is a fact that the labor commissioner's office gave the story to the newspapers days before the warrant was issued and had to make good."

"FASTING" DON'T PAY IN GERMANY

(By Universal Service)
BERLIN, April 20.—"Fasting" for a record does not pay any more in Berlin. The fasting record of 44 days recently established by Herr Jolly was beaten today by two men at the same time. They were Signor Fastello and Mr. Harry, who kept each other company in a hunger race in a glass case in a Berlin restaurant for 45 days. But while Jolly reaped a harvest of $35,000 in entrance fees and became a sensation, Fastello and Harry closed their show with a large deficit, which they will have to cover out of their own pockets. Besides that their record promises to be beaten in two days by Signor Venteg, who is also doing the stunt in Berlin.

Venteg set out to fast for fifty days, but his financial return will be only a few hundred dollars. Better financial returns are expected by two other record breakers, one of whom, Rolando, undertakes to go without sleep for twenty-seven days and night, while the other, Herr Horaz, hopes to talk for 84 days without stopping, using ten languages. All plan to go to America, where they hope to make big money.

July 2 is Closing Date On Which Veterans May Re-instate Their War Risk Insurance With Gov't

Over thirty billion dollars worth of war time insurance is now waiting in the vaults of the United States Veterans' Bureau to be reclaimed by world war veterans. The dead line is July 2, 1926. Four million American world war veterans will lose their insurance rights unless on or before July 2, 1926 they take steps to protect them. July 2, 1926 is the final date set by Congress to reinstate and convert their lapsed and unconverted insurance. President Coolidge has expressed his unqualified approval of the campaign recently inaugurated by the Bureau to bring to the attention of all ex-service men and women the desirability of immediate reinstatement and conversion of their war time insurance. Director Times has issued instructions that every man or woman entitled to this insurance be advised of his or her rights before it is too late. No person in this age should need to be convinced that life insurance is desirable. Every eligible veteran should get right on his government insurance before July 2, 1926.

Government life insurance is the best insurance protection money can buy and is issued in amounts ranging from $1000 to $10,000 in multiples of $500 and in forms of policies such as ordinary life, twenty payment life, thirty payment life, twenty year endowment and endowment maturing at the age of 62. The premium rates on converted war time insurance are lower than those charged by any Life Insurance Company for participating insurance with similar benefits. The policies are standard life insurance contracts containing many attractive features. The principal features contained are: liberal premiums, guaranteed cash, paid up and extended insurance values, participating dividends, disability benefits, policy loans and no restriction as to residence, travel, occupation, military or naval service.

A veteran in good health may apply on or before July 2, 1926 for the reinstatement of all or any part of his term (War-Time) Insurance, which has lapsed for a period of more than three months in multiples of $500 but not less than $1000, by submitting an application for reinstatement and report of a complete physical examination, together with a remittance covering two monthly premiums on the amount of insurance to be reinstated. If term insurance is reinstated for the purpose of conversion, only one monthly premium at the term rate and the first monthly, quarterly, semi-annual or annual premium at the converted rate on the amount of insurance to be converted, is required. A physical examination will be made free of charge at the San Francisco Regional office. This examination may also be secured, at the expense of the applicant, from any reputable physician licensed to practice medicine.

The officers and members of every veteran and welfare organization are earnestly requested to give every assistance possible in putting this nation wide insurance campaign over to every eligible veteran of the world war residing in the San Francisco territory, which is comprised of all counties in California north of and not including San Luis Obispo, Kern, Inyo, Mono, and Alpine, with the exception of Lassen and Modoc counties, which are under the jurisdiction of the Reno Regional office. Blank applications and complete information have been furnished to the service officers of all organizations of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, United Spanish American War Veterans, United Veterans of the Republic and the secretaries of all local American Red Cross chapters, who will be glad to assist veterans in the preparation of their applications.

Further information and blank forms will be gladly furnished on request by letter, telephone, Garfield 2466, or personal call to Major Frederick A. Boyce, Chief of Cooperation Section, San Francisco Regional office, U. S. Veterans' Bureau, 882 Market street, San Francisco, who is immediately in charge of the insurance activities of the San Francisco office.

MACDONALD TO SHOW PICTURE OF THE VATICAN

When the Vatican at Rome is mentioned, few people stop to realize what the word embraces. It means far more than the home of the Pope; it is one of the chief treasuries of art in the world—a vast group of palaces, chapels, galleries and courts representing the finest in architecture, and housing a tremendous collection of all that is wonderful in paintings, statuary, tapestries and other fine handicrafts.

Actuated by a desire to bring the priceless treasures of this world's storehouse of art to the eyes of the millions who could never hope to visit it, Dr. Vincenzo Fago went about the well-nigh impossible task of getting permission to take moving pictures in the Vatican. Such a task had never before been undertaken. Strict rules, centuries old, govern the comings and goings of all who visit the Vatican, either on business or as sight-seers. There is no more formal court in the world—certainly none more bound by tradition.

The beautiful Garden of the Vatican, where the Pope drives daily and to which the public is never admitted, was photographed for the first time for the film at the Macdonald Theatre during the next three days.

In the many palaces, galleries and courts of the Vatican, and miles and miles of corridors containing original paintings, murals and statues of the great masters, and statues modeled by the ancients, and the greatest and best known of these art treasures are presented in this picture of the Vatican—historical and artistic—photographed only after ceaseless effort.

Gloria Swanson Is Starred at The California

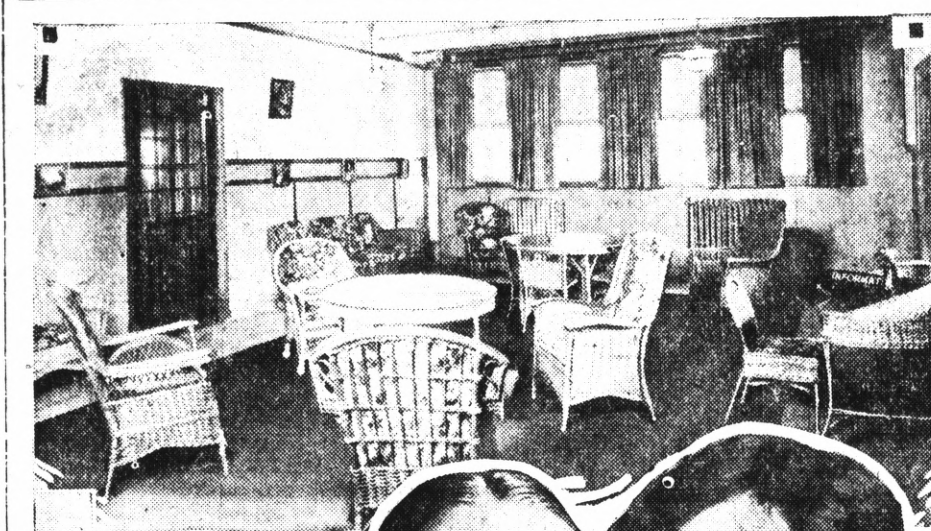

For the first time since she became a star, Gloria Swanson has the same leading man in two successive pictures. The actor who starred with her in "The Untamed Lady" is Lawrence Gray, whose initial appearance opposite the star was made in "Stage Struck," and who is again her mate in "The Untamed Lady," which comes to the California Theatre today.

Gray first attracted Miss Swanson's attention by his work in "The Coast of Polly," and thereby hangs a tale. During the making of this production, under Allan Dwan's direction, Gray was in Coronado Beach, in California, to fill in a minor role, although he held a newly acquired long-term contract with Paramount, despatching him for featured parts. He half doubted the wisdom of accepting an unimportant bit in a picture, but finally decided that even a comparatively insignificant role was better than idleness.

The star and her director were on the lookout for a leading man for her next picture, "Stage Struck," and when they saw his work on the screen, he was immediately chosen. As the dexterous flip-flop topper, Gray made such a favorable impression that he was again assigned the principal role opposite Miss Swanson in "The Untamed Lady." This is the story. Famous Hurst wrote especially for Gloria and which Frank Tuttle directed.

Gray was born in San Francisco July 27, 1898, was educated there, and entered the export department of the Standard Oil company. He enlisted in the navy during the war, and left the service with the rank of ensign. He obtained a position in a bank, but left it for the job of production manager at the Lasky studio.

Broadcasting Stations You Have Heard—WWJ

Station WWJ, The Detroit News, began a regular scheduled program service to the radio audience on August 31, 1920. There has been no interruption since that date, although the station has made numerous changes in its transmitting apparatus. The original range was not more than 100 miles. Present equipment consists of a Western Electric 1,000-watt transmitter embodying the latest features designed to give quality in transmission. The range of this is not known, but WWJ has received word from Cornwall, England, that its programs are received frequently there. Applause cards from nearly every state show that America is covered thoroughly, and that the programs are very much enjoyed. The bulk of WWJ's entertainment now comes from WEAF in New York, but an outstanding feature of the local program is the Detroit News Orchestra. This is unique in the radio world in that it is the first orchestra specially organized for broadcasting. Each of its members is included in the roster of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Ossip Gabrilowitsch. During 1925 WWJ supplied 2,300 hours of entertainment, an increase of 700

"WE MODERNS" IS COMING TO THE RICHMOND

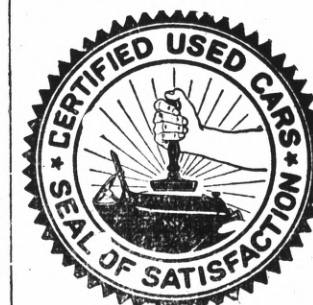

Now that the "mo-ern" has replaced the "flapper"—or is rapidly doing so—as a term more befitting the younger generation of girlhood, we are to meet the new young creature face to face. In fact, we are to meet her original and receive our first lesson on the difference between a "modern" and a "flapper." The introduction comes with the appearance of Colleen Moore in her new picture, "We Moderns," at the Richmond Theatre today and tomorrow.

When the Camp Fire Girls launched their anti-flapper crusade recently, with "modern" as a more dignified and serious substitute, their narrow-mindedness, their narrow and civic leader, telegraphed a request to Miss Moore to lead it. Colleen, Mrs. Harriman maintained, was most typical of the "modern" meaning—ambitious, hard working and getting ahead.

And Colleen responded by jumping into the campaign with both feet, so to speak. Her first jump was to produce "We Moderns" and demonstrate the difference between a "flapper" and a "modern."

And thus we are to meet the original "modern."

The picture is said to be one of Colleen's best. It was produced by John McCormick for First National. Other features on the same program include "The Dome Doctor," a Larry Semon comedy; "Prizma," the screen magazine.

SPEAKERS OF NOTE TO TALK AT AD SESSION

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—A program that will rival in its scope and constructive character that of a national convention will be provided for the twenty-third annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Advertising Clubs Association which meets here next July. Speakers of national importance and recognized as outstanding leaders in their respective fields have been secured, according to Don E. Gillman, president of the Association. One of the biggest figures in the advertising world has been secured in the person of Lou E. Holland, for several years president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, president of the National Better Business Commission and president of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce. Holland will speak on "Advertising, organized for What?"

The subject of "Reducing Waste in Advertising" will be handled by Lew Hahn, managing director of the National Retail Dry Goods Association. The distribution problem will be handled by Alvin Dodd, manager of the Domestic Distribution Department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Washington, D. C. A national figure in the financial world will be offered in Bruce Barton, president of Barton, Durstine & Osborne, New York City, who will discuss "The Modern Consumer."

The relation of advertising to one of the newest of the national industries, that of radio, will be discussed by C. C. Farlin, director of the Bureau of Commercial Research of the Curtis Publishing Company of Philadelphia. Much interest in advertising and the business professions is being evidenced in the participation in the convention conference of E. T. Meredith, former Secretary of Agriculture and publisher of the Meredith Publications of Philadelphia. He will discuss "The Cooperative Movement in Agriculture."

Among other speakers of note will be Dr. Alexander Fleisher, assistant secretary of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company of New York City; Dr. W. E. Hotchkiss, dean of Graduate School of Business Administration, Stanford University; and C. King Woodbridge, president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World and president of the Dictaphone Sales Corporation of New York City.

The convention will be opened by a big inspirational meeting to be held at the Greek Theatre at the University of California with the Honorable Wallace R. Farrington, territorial governor of the Hawaiian Islands, as one of the principal speakers. The conventions throughout will stress the general relation of advertising to the fundamental issues of business.

America Can Learn Lesson From Europe Says Manager of Famous Los Angeles Hotel in Paris

(By Universal Service)
PARIS, April 20.—"No matter how patriotic we are it is impossible to shut our eyes to the fact that Europe has something to teach the U. S. A.," declared Charles Baad, manager of the Los Angeles Biltmore hotel today, after visiting London and Paris.

"What is more astonishing is that Europe's superiority is more than anything else in its railroads. European hotels defy criticism. Their food is excellent and their service perfect, but there is nothing in all that which we cannot match."

"We did ninety miles per hour from Plymouth to London and while we had tea in our pullman we never even noticed the motion. We covered the 240 miles from Calais to Paris in just over three hours in a non-stop run during which we dined in perfectly appointed dining cars with the same comfort as in the dining room of a smart restaurant."

"For anyone accustomed to our three days Chicago-to-Coast trips, these European trains with their light cars, their first rate road beds and unequalled speed were a revelation. With the European system it would be possible to reach Los Angeles or San Francisco from New York in less than three days. The coast would be brought within twenty-four hours of Chicago."

"The east and west would be no longer separated by a long and tedious journey, but their interests and their trades would automatically mingle for their mutual benefit. At the same time the reduction of one-third in the time of transit would free one-third of the rolling stock which would become available for a third more goods which in turn would bring tariffs down."

"Both Chicago and the coast would feel an immediate and substantial benefit not only would merchandise be cheaper but the influx of tourists to and through sunny-California would increase to such an extent that more than one train daily each way would probably be possible before long."

"This glaring superiority of European transportation so astonished the majority of the hotel men at their big convention, that the matter will probably be taken up earnestly when the party returns."

"For my part I intend to seriously endeavor to interest the most prominent coast citizens with a view to concerted measures to try to bring about quick and healthy changes in transcontinental railroad methods."

Bank Contracts To Be Awarded

Contracts for the construction of the new Mercantile Trust Bank building are expected to be awarded today, according to a statement made by Larkin Younce who announces that work on the new building will be started immediately and the work rushed to completion.

The low bidders from Richmond on the various contract jobs are as follows: P. M. Sanford, carpenter work; Zeb Knott, painting; San Pablo Lumber company, lumber; Pioneer Electric company, electric and the Mastercraft Tile and Roofing company, the roofing.

P. M. Sanford was awarded the contract for the carpenter work and the other contracts will probably be signed today. So many bids have been received that it has delayed the awarding of the contracts.

It is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy within 120 days.

Witness in Damage Suit Dies in Bay

The Balfour Guthrie company, who are suing the Great Western Power company for $619,000 as the result of a fire that destroyed 8,000 tons of grain, lost one of their chief witnesses when Captain A. Christiansen disappeared two weeks ago and his body was found in the bay yesterday. It is believed that he fell from the tug boat.

PORT DISTRICT PLANS REVIVED

The revival of the Port District plan, whereby the bay ports including Richmond would benefit by banding together to help each other was discussed at a conference held in Oakland yesterday under the auspices of the harbor committee of the Oakland chamber of commerce.

City Engineer E. A. Hoffman, Councilman E. J. Garrard and Otto Ludewig of the harbor committee of the Richmond chamber of commerce were present at the conference.

The uniting of Contra Costa and Alameda counties into one port district was advocated by Captain Chambers, consulting engineer of the rivers and harbors department of the government and a member of the shipping board, who was the principal speaker at the conference.

He declared that more could be gained from the government by a unified port district and that if formed, all the territory benefiting by the harbor improvements would help to bear the costs, thus lightening the weight of a few cities.

CLEVER SENCIO DIES AFTER TEN ROUND BATTLE

WARREN DROWN
(By Universal Service)

MILWAUKEE, April 20.—Clever Sencio, born Sencio Moldez, lies dead here today, a victim, not so much of the pummeling he took at the hands of "Bud" Taylor, of Terre Haute, last night, as from the racial characteristic which urges the Filipino to fight on and on, never to back up, never to waver. The Filipino who has exchanged the bolo for the boxing glove, still dies, he never surrenders.

Death came to Sencio, hours after the bout, much as it came to Pancho Villa, and to Dencio Cabanella, greatest of all the three great Filipino figures of the prize ring, death from physical exhaustion.

The final round of Villa's final fight, and the final round of Dencio's final fight, found each man carrying on with every ounce of strength left in his tattered body.

Death came to Villa, who was a world's champion, ten days after he had waged a battle against Jimmy McLarnin in a Pacific Coast ring, after conceding the fact that his strength had been sapped, before entering the ring, by complications resulting from an ulcerated tooth.

Death came to Dencio in Australia, after fourteen rounds of gallant action against Eugene Criqui, the Frenchman, a hemorrhage of the brain, being the immediate cause.

It is a coincidence, perhaps, that the three greatest figures of Filipino boxing history, Dencio, Villa, and now Sencio, should die as a result of ring engagements.

It is a coincidence, too, that "Bud" Taylor, for the second time in his career, should be pointed out as the one whose pace carried an opponent to a point where even the stoutest of hearts, could not function longer.

It was in January, 1924, that Frankie Jerome, a New York boxer, died within two days after he had waged a losing, but game fight against the lad from Terre Haute.

Of the fight at Milwaukee, which led to Sencio's passing, not much more can be said, than was reported from the ringside.

Sencio, smaller in stature than Taylor, shorter in reach, and weighing about two pounds less than his opponent, played no attention to these handicaps. His business was fighting, and he set about it in the workmanlike fashion that had endeared him to mid-western fans, in his two previous starts, both a East Chicago, against Ray Rychell and "Tiger" Burns.

At various stages of the bout, Sencio actually fought Taylor to a standstill. But in the last round, Taylor opened up an attack that would have carried away any opponent with a less stout heart than the tiny Manila.

Punches rained on Sencio from every angle, and still he fought back, though at every minute it seemed impossible for him to raise a weary arm, and swing it towards his opponent.

There was nothing particularly savage about the Taylor punching, no man-killing wallop was sent Sencio's way. But the accumulative force of a myriad of punches, the desperation of the Filipino's last stand, the urge of his race, not to break ground but to stay where the fighting was the thick, est, bore him up. At the finish, Sencio was on his feet—and punching. He did, but he did not surrender.

Sencio, like Villa, was under the management of Frank Churchill, who introduced boxing in the Philippines, several years ago. He was born in 1904 in Tacloban, Leyte, in the Philippines.

He came to the "states" in the summer of last year, and engaged in several bouts on the Pacific Coast.

SMITH OF CARDS IS TOLD

The Boston Braves are evidently trying to strengthen their team, for President Emil Fuchs has announced that he has purchased Jack Smith, of the St. Louis Cardinals at a price that has not been announced. Smith is an outfielder and during the season of 1925 he batted .251. He smacked four home runs and stole 20 bases.

TROJANS GO EAST

Members of different track teams about the Pacific Coast are getting on their horses and galloping east to enter some of the events. Three members of the champion intercollegiate track team of the University of Southern California left yesterday to enter the annual Drake University events at Des Moines, Iowa.

RICKARDS MAY LOSE LICENSE

The New York State Boxing commission has lightly smacked Tex Rickards upon the wrist. They told Rickards that if he persists in trying to match Tunney and Dempsey his license as a promoter will be revoked and his Garden will be declared null and void as far as boxing goes. But why should Rickards worry? Dempsey won't fight so there will not be a Dempsey-Tunney fight.

A MODEL RACE TRACK

Something new for the race track bettors. At Grove City, Ohio, a person may bet on a race and if his horse loses he may go and get his money refunded, less a charge of ten cents for handling his coin. Thus a person may bet on all races and then go get his money back if all of the horses that he bets upon lose. But the kick back is that the management can deny admission to any one they wish so the chronic dissatisfied man may be barred.

Card Leaders to Be Named by the Former Method

(By Universal Service)

PALO ALTO, April 20.—Stanford athletic teams will continue to elect their captains as heretofore in advance instead of at the end of the different seasons, as was proposed recently.

The proposition created such a furore on the Cardinal campus that the measure was put up to the students themselves at a general vote held today.

It was defeated 381 to 350.

Here's a New Golf Narrative

Arthur Alstrom, constable is the "proud" possessor of a black eye. Alstrom was using the golf net at the Carquinez club and smacked at a beautiful ball, but the canvass was worn and the ball went through, hitting a two by twice. It returned and Alstrom had no time to duck—hence the colored optic.

isn't worried—not a tall. Rickards is now trying to match Benny Leonard with Jimmie Walker. If Tex is successful at this new scheme he should knock down a little over a half million dollars.

CARDS ENTER P. A. A.

The Stanford University track team that walloped the University of California track team last Saturday, will enter the Pacific Athletic association matches at the Kezar stadium on May 8.

There will be no California athletes in the matches as they will be in the midst of their final examinations. The Cards will be up against the Olympic club of San Francisco and the Los Angeles Athletic club. This meet should be worth the time to see.

Rickard Not to Stage Title Bout Farley Declares

(By Universal Service)

NEW YORK, April 20.—James A. Farley, chairman of the New York state athletic commission does not think that Tex Rickard will attempt to promote a Dempsey-Tunney heavyweight title bout in New Jersey against the wishes of the commission.

Discussing the dispatches from Texas which said that the promoter would sign Dempsey for the battle Farley today declared:

"Rickard will not be foolish enough to promote a Dempsey-Tunney match in New Jersey in defiance of the stand taken by the boxing commission."

Farley said that Rickard was aware of the commissions views on the matters and that the edict that Dempsey must first meet Will be respected.

Babe Ruth Gets His First Homer

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Babe Ruth lifted one of Walter Johnson's fast arm pitches out of Griffith Stadium this afternoon for his first home run of the season. Here is how he did it.

With two out in the first inning and Earl Combs on second as the result of a two bagger, Ruth stepped up to bat. Johnson rifled over two swift strikes. The Babe then caught the next ball squarely on the nose and put it over the high right field wall.

Harold Hunt of Sixth street has come through with a record breaking big striped bass. Last night Hunt threw his line off of the San Rafael ferry pier and then dragged in a fifteen pound bass.

Delvin McKnight Gets Gold Badge

Delvin McKnight has been awarded a gold badge as the prize for his diligent work with the Shawnee Pioneers of the First Baptist church. McKnight is one of the first boys of that group to receive the coveted honor but by the way the rest of the boys are working to gain their badges there will be a large number of them who will show this badge.

Dave Dillabaugh was in charge of the meeting, that was held at the Y. M. C. A.

A cigarette as is a cigarette!

BOY, howdy! You'll say so the first one you roll with Prince Albert, the better tobacco for cigarettes. P. A. rolls slick as a whistle. Doesn't flutter away on the first breeze or spill all around. That's because P. A. is crimp-cut. It burns better for the same reason.

And that taste! There's the real test after all. A cigarette made with P. A. tastes so good you'll be making one right after the other. From morning right up to closing time. Cool as a breeze from the North. Sweet as butter-taffy. Fragrant as wind-blown blossoms. That's Prince Albert! Good old Prince Albert, the better cigarette tobacco.

For good measure, the Prince Albert process cuts out bite and parch. Millions of grateful tongues have spoken about this important feature of P. A. You just never tasted a home-rolled cigarette that gave you so much downright pleasure. Get a tidy red tin or a toppy red bag of P. A. today and see.

It's the quality tobacco in Prince Albert that makes such a cigarette. This same wonderful tobacco goes great in a jimmy-pipe also. Try it. Tuck a neat wad of P. A. into the business end of your favorite pipe and light up. Your face will light up at the same time... and for a good reason!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins and toppy red bags. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

PRINCE ALBERT

HEEDED MOTHER'S ADVICE

Oakland, Cal., Feb. 26, 1926.
For more than a year I suffered from hemorrhage from a tumor. During this time I was treated by several physicians, all of whom agreed that an operation was the only thing that could help me. Neither my husband nor I liked the idea of the knife.
Upon the advice of my mother who, after having an operation on the right side, the wound forming a fistula which had never healed for 14 years, had found complete relief and fistula healed by drinking the Fong Wan Herbs, I decided to try them. Owing to my terrible condition and my extremely poor health, it took about six months before I was entirely well. I am now in splendid health and my old trouble has been completely vanquished.
I formerly lived at 1805 Howard street, San Francisco, but have recently removed to Oakland. My phone number is Mark 6550.

Gall Bladder Troubles Gone!
To Whom It May Concern: For over a year I had trouble in my gall bladder, pain on my right side, vomiting and a general rundown condition. On February 23rd of this year I had an attack of appendicitis, the pain of which was so severe that I could not sleep at night. I came to see the Chew & Chew herbals and after taking one dose of herbs I was greatly relieved. I continued to take the herbs for a few more weeks and I am all well now. March 14, 1926.

FISHERMEN GO ON 2ND STRIKE

PITTSBURGH, April 20.—Pittsburgh fishermen, for the second time this season have virtually declared a strike because of the refusal of the fish companies to meet price demands. A conference of the fish companies and fishermen was held last night and with the refusal of the companies to meet their demands, the Sacramento River Fishermen's union has refused to leave the Pittsburg dock. The fishermen are demanding a signed agreement fixing the price of fish for the entire season.

Loher Market Prepares to Move Soon

Having disposed of its lease in the new Muller building, the Loher market, now located at Fourth street and Macdonald avenue is preparing to open a new market in the Walther building at Twelfth street and Macdonald avenue, according to an announcement made yesterday by George Loher, Jr.

The front of the building will be completely remodeled and the latest equipment, machines and refrigeration plants will be installed. It is expected that the new market will be ready for occupancy by May 1.

Speedometer is Blamed for Fast Speed of Teacher

Stating that his speedometer was slow in registering thus accounting for the fact that he was probably going forty-five miles per hour in a thirty-five mile zone, E. W. Everett of Santa Rosa submitted to Judge A. Odell the following affidavit in his defense:

"This is to certify that Mr. Edward W. Everett has been tested in this shop and found to register 10 per cent slow in the gear ratio and 2 mi. slow head test."

(Signed) FRED JENKINS, Santa Rosa Speedometer Man.

And lest there be a mistake, Everett appended the following communication:

"Dear Judge: In reading over this statement from Mr. Jenkins I note it is slightly ambiguous. In reality it was my speedometer and not myself that Mr. Jenkins tested. I can't vouch for my personal gear ratio but hope my head test would not be more than 3 degrees slow."

E. W. EVERETT,
High School Teacher,
Santa Rosa, Calif.

Judge Odell took the case under advisement.

Prohibition Has Not Had Chance Says Dry Leader

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, April 20.—As the result of some corruption and much political patronage by those in authority, prohibition has as yet failed to have an outstanding chance in this country, Mrs. Ella A. Boole, National president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, today declared to the Senate Committee on Judiciary.

There has been a vast leakage of alcohol through the abuse of the permit system of withdrawals, she asserted.

"The spread of propaganda, that it is not obligatory to obey a law unless you believe in it and that the responsibility for enforcement rests with the officers alone, when it should be shared by the individual citizen, have materially hindered the work of enforcement," Mrs. Boole said.

Third Lava Flow Is Expected from Mauna Loa Soon

(By Universal Service)
Special Cable Dispatch
HONOLULU, Th., April 20.—With the two fiery Kona and Kauai lava flows from Mauna Loa apparently slowing up indications tonight were that a third gigantic flow was in the offing, this side in the direction of Hilo, directly opposite from the courses taken by the Kona and Kauai rivers.

Considerable smoke and a dull red glow were hanging over the top of the 13,000 foot volcano and appeared to be increasing in intensity hourly.

Relief measures were taken today to aid the population of the tiny native village of Hoopuloa, wiped out when the Kona flow crawled through it early Sunday morning, destroying twelve huts, a pier and several tanks—the entire village.

Uniform Building Code to be Subject Of Session May 24

All those interested in a uniform building code for the Pacific Coast have been invited to attend a conference to be held on May 24 in the Ferry Building, San Francisco. The session is being called by R. E. Fisher chairman of the California Development Association Committee in charge of the work.

City Building Inspector E. E. Grow has been attending the sessions of the group and has taken an active interest in the working out of the problems before the committee.

Committees are to be named at the proposed session to bring the uniform building code plan before the smaller cities of the coast and ask them to join with the other cities in bringing about a uniform code.

FERRY STOCK OWNERS FACE ANOTHER FIGHT

Claiming that the state railroad commission had no jurisdiction, the Richmond-San Francisco Ferry company, M. Emanuel president, has asked the Supreme court for a review of the decision of the commission which ordered funds of the company returned to the stockholders. The ferry company contends that since it had never operated as a utility, the commission had no jurisdiction over it.

The railroad commission refused all the ferry company claims amounting to several thousand dollars, expenses incurred for offices, equipment and attorney fees.

Funds totaling $65,000 of which amount approximately $50,000 was subscribed by Richmond stockholders are involved in the suit which has been appealed to the Supreme court. A few weeks ago, the railroad commission handed down a decision ordering the funds returned to the stockholders. The company was organized in 1919 but never began operation.

The plaintiffs were represented at the commission hearings by Attorney DeLancey Smith of San Francisco. The company still claims its existence and Attorney Elmer E. Robinson has filed the appeal for a review of the case.

Under the terms of the permit, all the funds of the company were impounded with the exception of promotion commissions. The stockholders claim that Emanuel is asking for funds in excess of the original agreement.

A GIANT PILLOW for THE TIRED BODY—

Tuftless!

Perfect Sleep—insured!

If you do not sleep well now—blame your mattress. Your tossing from one side to the other, dozens of times during the night—is nothing more than your unconscious effort to relieve the body pressures caused by constant contact with an unyielding mattress.

No matter what your mattress is filled with—hair, floss, or cotton—it cannot be the "pillow for the body" that a mattress should be. If its surface—upon which you depend for comfort and relaxation—is nothing but a series of hills and valleys—a group of hard, unyielding bumps.

The Sealy Tuftless is a "Giant Pillow for the Body." Filled with Native American Long Staple Cotton (by far superior to hair and floss) and got to be confused with "Linters," which is just "fluff" scraped off the cotton seeds—every cotton fibre is intertwined by an air-wave process—eliminating all ties or tufts. The Sealy is free and unobstructed—

Comfortable forever!
